P. H. McEVOY AND WIFE ARE VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT

WELL KNOWN PIONEERS OF SAN MATEO COUNTY ARE BURIED IN UNION CEMETERY ON FRIDAY

The sudden and untimely death of P. H. McEvoy and his wife this week at Oakland caused profound sorrow in this comunity in which both had passed the greater portion of their lives. They met their death in a distressing automobile accident. Mr. and Mrs. McEvoy, after attending a moving picture show Sunday night started for home. On crossing Broadway at Twelfth street, Oakland, the couple was run down by a five passenger Studebaker automobile driven by a young Italian, both received fatal injuries. It is allegged that the car was driven recklessly by the boy. Mr. and Mrs. McEvoy were taken to a near-by hospital, where Mr. McEvoy died on Tuesday and his wife died the following morning. The bodies were brought to Redwood City and the funeral of the two pioneers took place yesterday morning from the Congregational church. A large cortege of friends followed the remains to Union cemetery, where all that was mortal of two pioneers were laid to rest among former friends who had passed beyond the stars years before.

P. H. McEvoy had a long and varied career in San Mateo county. Born in Australia in 1848, he came with his parents to Monterey in 1849. His father, the late John McEvoy, became attached to the military post at that place and there became acquainted with Colonel John C. Fremont who was in charge. The friendship gained there ripened with years. When Fremont made his famous march from Monterey to Presidio in San Francisco in 1852, he took McEvoy with him. For several days the small army camped on what is now know as the Selby tract. So impressed was Fremont with the beauty of the place that he decided to purchase the proverty when he had reached the city. He advise his friend McEvoy to buy the adjoining ranch which he did some time later, but for some reason the colonel failed to complete his purchase. On the McEvoy ranch, consisting of several hundred acres adjoining Redwood City and now dotted with pretty homes, P. H. McEvoy grew to manhood, and in the shadow of his childhood home he is laid away.

The deceased had three brothers, Philip John and Frank McEvoy, three sterling, active men who cut a big swath in the early history of Redwood City. They were big muscular men, expert athletes and experts in fishing and hunting.

John F. Ford and McEvoy attended the first school opened in Redwood City in the latter fifties. A mammoth oak tree on the highway near Wellesley Park sheltered the pupils. It was the school room. Here a school teacher from San Francisco worked with her willing pupils. It is related that when some youngster was due for a thrashing he would climb the tree and get out on a secure ranch away from the pretty rod welider and wait until the close of school to moke a dash for home.

Later McEvoy attended St. Mary's College. When a young man he had a sad experience in farming. He went to Roberts Island and put in a large amount of grain which looked favorale for a fortune, when the levees broke and his crop was totally destroyed. Coming back to Redwood City he began teaming from the mountains.

Mr. McEvoy's political career in the county began in 1892, when he sought the office of supervisor of the third township. A few years before he had become a resident of Menlo Park. John Stafford held the office and that year there was a big opposition to the incumbent, a republican, McEvoy secured the democratic nomination, Stafford, the republican, and John MacBain made an independent for the office. It was a fierce political battle. Every vote was brought out; McEvoy won the contest by the small margin of twelve votes.

During his four years of office he made a reputation as a road builder, but he also made enemies so that when the next election rolled around he had another contest on his hands. The late George W. Lovie was pitted against him by the republicans. It was generally conceded by the politicians that the latter would win out when the votes were counted it was seen that McEvoy had captured the office by 26 votes. Four years later there was another big contest. McEvoy failed to secure the democratic nomination it having been awarded to Louis Frank. Ex-sheriff W. H. Kinney was given the republican nomination. The wiseacres picked Frank as a winner, but luck was with the incument, and he again won the heated contest, receiving a plurality of 26 votes. In 1904 John MacBain measured swords for the supervisorship with the result that MacBain won by a big plurality. In 1908 McEvoy came back with his armor on for battle and defeated MacBain by 99 votes. Four years later MacBain buckled on his armor and in a fierce battle defeated his old antagonist.

Mr. McEvoy made several ineffectual attempts afterwards to regain his lost laurels, but failed. MacBain holding the coveted prize ever since.

Mr. McEvoy was chairman of the board of supervisors several times displaying much ability as a parstudy of couty government, McEvoy was loyal to his friends, but gave his enemies no quarters.

In this respect his brother, Philip McEvoy, was certainly different He was elected sheriff of the county in 1892, and was killed in the performance of his duty. Had he lived he would have held the office for many terms.

Mr. and Mrs. McEvoy left Menlo Park about three years ago to reside in Oakland.

Mrs. McEvoy, known in her girlhood as Lizzie A. Lloyd, was the daughter of the late William Lloyd, who came to the town of Searsville, located at the junction of the Portola and Sandhill road and erected a saw mill. It was here that Miss Lloyd was born in 1855. In her youth she was known for her beauty. She was tall and slender and very pretty. She had two sisters, Ellen and Mary Jane Lloyd. They were three dashing winsome girls, admired by all for their rare beauty. Ellen married William McDonald, the famous singer, who was a member of the Bostonians in their palmy days. The other sister married a lumberman. In the early days the girls were much sought after. They led all society events of those days and no ball room gathering was complete without them. Searsville, over which these girls were reigning belles, has long since disappeared. Many years ago the Spring Valley bought the land on which the houses stood and moved them away.

The following children survive the couple, Mrs. Gilbert H. Smith, Mrs. L. Cokely, Mrs. D. Bell, Mrs C. Ankele, Mrs. C. Maloney, and Mervin McEvoy. Two other children predeceased their parents, William McEvoy and Stanley McEvoy.

SAVE MOTHER!

THERE'S NO BETTER GIFT THAN AN ELECTRIC CLEANER.

An electric cleaner is the best gift for the women because it lightens their everyday burdens of sweeping and cleaning.

It gets in awkward places. It noses its way close to the base boards. It's just as handy for cleaning pillows, upholstering, mattresses and other dust collectors as it is in digging embedded dust and dirt out of carpets and rugs.

It protects good health because it gathers all germs in its dust-proof bag.

For birthdays, anniversaries or other happy occasions there's no better gift than an electric cleaner. Every woman knows this. ... Every man should.

De Groot to Play Olympics' Center

Dud DeGroot, who graduated from the Sequoia Union High School with the class of 1919, and later became captain and star player on the Stanford football team, has been chosen to play center on the team of the Olmpic Club. The position on the crack team was caused by that team losing "Fat" Latham, its former heavy weight at middle position.

DeGroot has the most brilliant football record made by any Sequoia student, and his playing in the big game of 1920 was more enthusiastically commented upon than of any other member of the team. The Sequoian's stars playing was impared in 1922 by an injured knee, but as this is reported to have fully recovered DeGroot may be expected to show some of his former stuff on the Olympic team.

CHILD KILLED ON WOODSIDE ROAD

The body of Frank Assmus, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Assmus of the Woodside road, was found frightfully mangled, by A. Wilson, in the wheel of a wood trailer which he was driving. The first knowedge Wilson had of the presence of the child was when upon noticing the wheel to be dragging he went back to determine the cause and found the childs' body jammed between the wheel and the brake. It is supposed that the child had, unknown to the driver, been riding on the brake of the trailer, and had lost its balance and fallen under the wheel, and had been carried by the wheel onto the brake again.

Chief of Police Collins was summoned and asisted in removing the lacerated body of the boy from the wheel, where it was firmly caught. The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of the James Crowe Company, where an inquest was conducted by County Coroner Brooke. YOU CAN'T KEEP A GOOD DUCK DOWN, SAYS PROF.

SHE WAS A SOCIAL CLIMBER, BUT SHE WAS NOT A GOOSE; HER ASPIRATIONS WERE THE HIGHEST

Limited capabilities are sometimes overcome by stubborn perserverance, and a duck, though it must always remain a duck, can at least imitate an eagle. So thought one of that graceful type of bypeds, belonging to Prof. John Gill, and kept by him at his home on Avondale avenue. This duck was anything but satisfied with her station in life, and was envious, in no small degree, of the buzzard, as he turned great circles in the sky, and she envied the fleet winged humming bird, as he darted around in the garden. But to envy the swifter winged fowls of the air is a common passion with ducks, we are told; and the mere fact of the envy of this one old duck would not make this a story. But this particular duck did more than envy. She made up her mind that what the eagle could do she could imitate, so when it came time for her to think of her family duties; determined that her offspring should have as elevated a beginning as any young eagle, she built her nest in the top of an old oak tree in the professor's yard. There far above the ground she laid her eggs and hatched her family, and looked down with superior self satisfaction upon the ordinary run of ducks who were content to waddle on the ground. Well, there's nothing like following a good example, and if you can't be an eagle do better than the other ducks.

The idea, however did not appeal to Prof. Gill when he had to ascend aloft to bring the timerous ducklings down to earth.

NEWS OF WOODSIDE

A large percentage of Woodside's adult population gathered on Tuesday evening, in the redwood grove on Fred Mighall's property to partake of a real chicken dinner supplied by the ladies of the church. What was modestly spoken of as a diner proved a veritable banquet and after the feasting was over, around the campfire in the grove it was agreed that, while the first, it should not be the last of such comunity gatherings.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Seventy years ago the father of the family got a letter from New York by way of the pony express. We have forgotten just what the postage cost, but it was quite an amount. Later letters came by way of the isthmus. They cost 10 cents for postage and were from four to six weeks entransit. Wednesday we sent a leter to New York by aeroplane mail. It cost us 2c to send the letter and it was in New York and delivered to the addressee in 30 hours. Times certainly have changed.

Times have not only changed in the matter of mail deliveries, but in practically every avenue of life advancement unthought of has been the rule. Messages are now sent through the air without the use of wire. Experiments have shown that houses may be illuminated by wireless electricity. Aeronautics have brought our country and the old world almost within speaking distance of each other. Automobles have furnished a means of travel that allows even the families in the very meager circumstances to travel and see the world. Moving pictures are beginning to take the place of the old organized method of instruction in educating our boys and girls. Phonographs are giving a new line of musical education for the youth and the adult of the land.

And yet with all of these new things the average man and woman somehow expects the boys and the girls to grow up just about as they grew up in days gone by. They somehow think that the home life should be the same. Somehow providence has helped the parent to keep the home life pretty nearly the same as it used to be, but the average parent has to be pretty careful to see that this condition continues.

Next week the schools of the community begin their operations. The parents of this school district should co-operate with the school in seeing that their boy or girl is at home at a regular hour and that he or she spends a reasonable amount of time at study. The changing conditions demand that the boy or girl should have a broader educaion than was formerly demanded and if the school is to do its part the parents must give their support, assistance and sympathy to the teachers who are trying to keep abreast of the changed conditions.

BREAK THROUGH THE WALL

Redwood City's growth has been phenominal these last few years, and the town is steadily growing and advancing. New houses and business blocks are being erected and new streets are being laid out. The growth has been, however, mostly in one direction, to the west, Development toward the east has been blocked by the fact that Main street business buildings offer an effectual wall beyond which growth cannot procede. Now a large manufactury, employing many men is to be erected beyond this wall, and the land to the east will be settled by hundred of families within a very few years. The business which this added population will mean to the town should benefit the merchants who are established here. It will not, however, unless a gate-way is opened into the business district from this part of town. Broadway must be opened through and connect with the streets to the east of Main street. If this gate-way is not built, it will result in the erection of another business district, seperate and distinct from the present one; in the erection of little shacks to serve as stores; and in just such settlement as Five Points, having nothing in common with the main business section of Redwood City, and of no advantage to the town as a whole. If this opening is made growth will be unhampered in this direction and the main street of Rdewood City will see the erection of real creditable business houses for many blocks where now is only marsh land.

THE WOODSIDE ROAD

Have you ridden on the Woodside road at 8:45 a. m. or at noon or just after school? Hasn't it kept you busy dodging the raft ofyoungsters who are their way to or from the Washington school? Tuesday a little seven-year-old boy was killed on the Woodside road. He might have been your boy. At any rate he was your neighbor's boy and the home where he was the pride and joy is now in the deepest mourning.

There should be a sidewalk along the Woodside road from the highway to the Washington school. We know that the supervisors have no method of forcing the property owners to construct sidewalks, but some way should be devised to take care of the matter. We know a little woman who is without the company of a good husband and three little girls who have to go through life without a father to help and guide them, because there was no sidewalk on the Woodside road last winter. We know that with the increase of automobiles there will be other accidents on the Woodside road. We, therefore, urge some action. The town trustees, the supervisors, the school district, the Progress Club, in fact every citizen who loves little children should make it their business to see that a sidewalk is constructed along the Woodside road from the highway to the Washington school.

NOW, WHY NOT?

A few weeks ago we published a letter sent to us by Wilbur Doxsee advocating the purchase by the county of the Peterson tract at Pescadero for a memmorial grove. The county has purchased the property and it will be used for a public park. The Times-Gazette concurs with Mr. Doxsee in advocating that the park be made as a memorial to the boys of the county who gave their lives in the great war. No more fitting memorial could be erected than the lofty red woods, nothing more characteristic of our county, and emblamatic of our state The dedicating of this park to the memory of those who gave their lives for this country, would stand second only to the preservation of these grand trees, among the worthy acts of the board of supervisors.

TIMES-GAZETTE FIRST

Two weeks ago the Times-Gazette published an exclusive account of the granting of a permit for the construction of the Dumbarton bridge. At that time our contemporary said that the report was untrue and that no permit had been granted. We verified our story and published that, verification last Saturday On Tuesday of this week all of the papers of the county and the city papers reported the granting of the permit.

Sometimes we may be a little zealous about getting the news to our patrons. We coroberate our stories and if they are correct we print them. We are glad that we were in a position to give the bridge news two weeks before any other paper could give it.

It is our endeavor to give our patrons service. We aim to boost our locality at all times and in all ways.

THE BAY BRIDGE

As this paper announced two weeks ago, the permit for the erection of the Dumbarton bridge has been definitely granted by the War Department of the United States. Work will soon begin on the construction of this great link uniting two of the most productive sections of the state, the San Joaquin and the Santa Clara vallies. What will this mean to Redwood City? Will this town be the one to benefit from this great artery of trade and travel? Or will it sit idly by and let some other town do the thinking and reap the benefits which Redwood City can and should have. Already Palo Alto is planning highways to connect with the bridge; highways that will bring the bridge to the door of Palo Alto. What is Redwood City doing? Will she sleep and wait for the East-side highway, and sleeping lose the opportunities that rightfully belong to her. The landing of the Dumbarton bridge is in San Mateo county. This should mean much for Redwood City. Will it?

JUDGE BARTLETT

Among the many names mentioned for the appointment of judge of the court of appeals for the third district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Burnett, is that of Judge James W. Bartlett, superior judge of Trinity county. He is an able jurist, has a profound knowledge of the law, and has had a long and varied experience on the bench. The lawyers consider him the ablest judge in the state. We knew him in his school days at St. Mary's college when that institution was located on Mission road in San Francisco He made a record there as a student. He was the class orator at his graduation and it is well known among all old St. Mary's students that he was the brightest young man ever graduated from that institution. It is to be hoped that Governor Richardson will select him to fill the vacancy. His appointment would certainly reflect credit upon the chief executive.

TOWN TRUSTEES MEETING IS SHORT AND SNAPPY

The most prominent feature of the meeting of the board of trustees this week was its shortness, compared to the time usually consumed in considering the city's needs. The regular meeting of the board, however, was preceded by a lengthy executive session in the lower chamber, where the members of the board met with City Attorney Mansfield, City Engineer Dimmitt and the representatives of the cement company, which is to start here. Although proceedings of this meeting were secret in nature, no announcement has been made, it is understood that the action taken is in line with the announcement in this paper last week that work would begin on the improvement of the Deep Water Road and the rebuilding of the railroad track along that road about the 1st of September.

In the open meeting of the board a communication was received from the Boy Scouts asking for a donation toward the refurnishing of the old gymnasium for a club room. The board voted to have $100 set aside for this purpose.

A letter from the Progress Club called the attention to three matters which needed the attention of the city government. The unsanitary condition of some of the fruit stores in town was mentioned as was also the bad condition of the manholes at some of the street crossings, especially at Main and Broadway. The bad water being supplied to the town was also mentioned in the letter, and it was stated that the water supply was the cause of many desirable families locating elsewhere, who would locate in Redwood City if the water supply were better.

Supervisor John MacBain was present and made arrangements to have the grounds surrounding the old jail improved. The old jail building is now used for the juvenile home, maintained by the county. According to the arrangements made at this time the county will pay half of the cost of improving the surrounding grounds if the city will pay the other half. City gardener, George Hopkins, is to begin the work soon of laying out the grounds.

A communication was received from the Redwood City Water Company, stating that they would accept $30,000 for the water plant, not including a Lutweiler pump, which has not been used. The letter was an answer to one written by the clerk of the board, at the request of the trustees, asking the water company how much they would sell the plant for.

SONOMA, SAN MATEO ROAD BIDS OPENED

The State Highway Commission Wednesday opened bids for the construction of shoulders on three miles of highway between San Bruno and San Mateo. The Pacific States Construction Company was the lowest bidder for the San Mateo county job, with an offer of $207,782.

LONG REST FOR THE RED WAGON

The great red trucks which guard the homes of the city from the fire fiend have had a long unbroken these last two weeks. Not an alarm has been turned into the fire station during the entire two weeks, a circumstance rather unusual during this time of the year when everything is tried out, and when so much dry grass is laying around in the fields.

JACKIE'S ICE CREAM SACRIFICED TO LOVE

The party who said that "the course of true love never runs smooth," certainly knew just what he was talking about.

One is convinced of that after viewing Jackie Coogan's thoroughly delightful picture, "Circus Days," the First National feauture being presented by Sol Lesser at the Sequoia Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, August 27th and 28th.

Jackie plays the part of a young ster who has a job selling refreshments at a circus. Mr. Lord, his boss and a hard master, sends him inside the main tent to dispose of a tray of ice cream cones.

Jackie become fascinated with a charming little equestrienne. He sits down to watch her. By the time he gets up the cones have all melted.

On his way back in dread of the probable consequences, he meets his friend, an old clown, who gives him a dollar to appease the tyrannical Mr. Lord, and thus, for the time being the lad's troubles are over.

Permits were issued to Sol Weisman and to the Old Timers Club to hold dances, to the first for one dance on Saturday night, and to the later for two dances to held August 2 and on September 5.

ADMITTED TO BAR

Horace H. Sears, former City Engineer of Redwood City has sent notice to his friends that he has qualified as a member of the New York bar and has opened an office in the Singer building, 149 Broadway, New York.

Mr. Sears resided on East Bradford street and still owns his home here.

He left for New York three years ago and expected to return to Redwood City to reside. It is probable, however, that he will not return for some years.

Before men had golf as an excuse to get away from their work, it was fishing, and probably before that it was politics, for is is certain there alweys has been some good reason why everybody should get out of labor.

IN SAN FRANCISCO

Word has been received here of the death in San Francisco of Ernest F. Gielow. Mr. Gielow will be remembered by the od timers of the town, having lived with his parents on Jefferson street in the early eighties. The family moved to San Francisco about twenty-five years ago. The deceased left a wife, Mrs. Florence Gielow, a son, Milton, and two daughters, Florence Gielow and Mrs. Frank Markey. Two brothers, Charles H. and George A. Gielow and two sisters, Mrs. A. Heustis and Mrs. George Beauchamp.

LEGAL ARGUMENTS FEATURE INCORPORATION HEARING

The meeting of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors last Monday was characterized by an animated discussion of the law by two prominent legal lights. The piece de resistance, about which centered the whirlwind of words, was the proposed incroporation of Atherton. The promulgators of the idea of Atherton incorporation were represented in the conflict by Attorney Arthur H. Reddington of Burlingame, while on the other side appeared the citizens of Menlo Park, represented by Norman E. Malcolm, city attorney of Palo Alto.

All the argument in the present situation seems, according to statements made by both attorneys, to center around a certain piece of territory, situated between Menlo Park and Atherton, and included in the petition of Atherton, within the boundary lines of the proposed town. The same piece of territory is included in the boundaries of the proposed town of Menlo Park, to incorporate which town a petition of incorporation was filed on the same day that the Atherton petition was filed.

At the opening of the meeting both attorneys requested their respective petitions read, and Atherton having priority, was therefore read by the clerk. Attorney Reddington then asked to have County Surveyor Kneese sworn, and when this had been done, started to question him concerning the boundaries of the proposed town, when he was interrupted by Attorney Malcolm, insisting that the Menlo Park petition be read.

"Will you concede, Mr. Malcolm," asked Reddington, "that the lines of the proposed town of Atherton perhaps the lines named in your petition for the corporate limits of Menlo Park?" "I certainly do," replied Malcolm. "Then I object to the Menlo Park petition being heard until after the election is held in Atherton," said Reddington. The chairman of the board then ordered the petitioner to procede with his questions to the county surveyor.

"We take exceptions to the action of the board," exclaimed Attorney Malcolm, "and would ask that the clerk make note of these objections in the minutes."

Reddington, then called in turn, Miss E. Falvey, a deputy in the office of County Clerk Elizabeth M. Kneese, who testified to the validity of the signatures of the Atherton petition, and Mr. Perry Eyre, who testified that all the names of the petition were residents of the district whose incorporation is petitioned. Folowing the hearing of this testimony, Attorney Reddington asked that the board call an election to vote upon he incorporation of Atherton.

Attorney Malcolm here filed a long objection to the passing by the supervisors of a resolution for holding the election, and noting as special points of objection that the territory included within the limits of the incorporation had less than 500 inhabitants, as required by law. The fact that the incorporation of this district would divide Menlo Sanitary district, the Menlo Park school district, and the Menlo Park lighting district was also given by Malcolm as one of the reasons for not granting the petition.

The objection of Attorney Malcolm was overruled by the chairman of the board, and the resolution calling the election was passed. The date for the election was set for Sept. 7, the T. E. Greives property at Atherton was selected as the polling place and the officers of the election were nominated by the board. As no paper is printed in the territory to be incorporated, it was ordered that the notice of election should be posted in four public places in the district included in the election.

Upon the adoption of the resolution by the board, Attorney Malcolm asked of the Menlo Park petition were to be disregarded, and being informed that that petition could not be read until after the Atherton election, he exclaimed, "That means an injunction. I had hoped that we would get along without it."

When the incorporation situation had been done with, for the present at least, the board turned its attention to several maters of less importance, and adjourned at 1:30 p. m. to meet again on the 27th, at which time the tax rolls of the county will be considered.

REUNION PLANNED BY SCOTTISH RITE

To Confer Degrees from 4th to 32nd at Meeting in September.

San Jose Scottish Rite Masons will hold their annual autumn reunion September 28, 29 and 30 of this year, when the high Masonic degrees, including those from the fourth to the thirty-second, will be conferred. This decision was reached at the stated meeting of the co-ordinate bodies of the San Jose Lodge of Perfection, San Jose Chapter of Rose Croix, San Jose Council, Knights Kadosh, and San Jose Consistory, held in the Temple on North Third street August 15. The reunion will be held in the San Jose Temple.

It was stated that the degrees will be exemplified in full form, which means, according to the members, that some of the most beautiful degree work in the world will be seen. It is stated that the philosophic teachings of the Rite are most profound and searching. The San Jose degree teams have been complimented on the excellence of their portrayal of the degrees by many sojourners who have seen work done in all parts of the United States, and the world. It is said that Scottish Rite Masonry is the only form of Masonry which is practiced in all quarters of the globe.

M. B. St. John, secretary of the local bodies, will have charge of the details connected with the reunion, and will furnish information to those desiring to participate in the work.

OPEN LETTER IN TIMES-GAZETTE RECEIVES COMMENT

The following letter was received this week from the American Tree Association in Washington, D. C., and refers to an open letter recently published in this paper, in which Wilbur Doxsee urged the supervisors to buy a tract of redwood timber, and dedicate it to the memories of those boys from this county who gave their lives in the great war.

Editor Times-Gazette,
Redwood City, California.
My dear sir:

Please allow me to congratulate you on the fine space you gave a letter the other day from Wilbur H. Doxsee in regard to tree planting and particularly memorial trees.

If Mr. Doxsee says there is an opportunity for a memorial avenue or a Road of Remembrance there, we hope most sincerely that the project will be taken up and pushed to a conclusion.

We are registering all memorial trees in a national honor roll. We are also calling upon the people to celebrate the centennial of Arbor Day in 1972, fifty years before it appens by planting the trees now. The response to this call has been remarkable.

We are making every tree planter a member of the tree planting army. There are no dues or fees and there is but one way to join and that is to plant a tree and register it with us. I am sending you printed matter that we will send to any organization that takes up this work or to any individual tree planter.

Cannot your paper take up this good suggestion by Mr. Doxsee and thus carry out a public spirited act that will bring applause on every hand.

Through you we will be very glad indeed to fill out the application blanks for membership in the tree planting army.

Yours very truly,
CHARLES LATHROP PACK,
President.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW SAFE FAILS IN PESCADERO

An attempt to blow the safe of the new Pescaero National Bank, made by unknown parties last Thursday morning at about 1 a. m., was unsuccessful, although four holes were made in the vault of the bank. The attempt was evidently made by amateurs at the game, who became alarmed when the blasts which they had set, went off. They left immediately after the holes were blown in the safe, although the damage was not discovered until the next morning when the bank was opened for business.

One hole was drilled in the steel wall of the vault and a charge of nitro-glycerine was exploded in it, that blew the combination off the door, but jammed the bar of the lock so that it could not be opened. The other holes were made in the concrete wall of the vault, but failed to penetrate the steel reinforcing.

The sheriff's office is working upon some clew that may lead to the conviction of the parties who are supposed to have driven into Pescadero in an automobile. The safe crackers evidently left hurridely, and left the tools with which they had been working.

More people are homesick at home than anywhere else. The cure is to get away.

Cleaning Without Odor by the F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded by our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening "gasoline" smell in your clothes

You will find this to be true
That your automobile lubricated with Zerolene will run from 25% to 50% farther without needing to have its valves ground or cylinders rebored. This is so because Zerolene forms so little carbon.
That you will get more mileage from your gasoline, because Zerolene, giving better lubrication continuously, permits the delivery of more engine power to the wheels on the ground.
That Zerolene will reduce your repair expense to a minimum and give you greater satisfaction in driving.
Therefore we say, "Insist on Zerolene—a better oil—even if it does cost less."

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

While the people of Menlo Park are a little peeved at the treatment they received by the board of supervisors in not having their petition for incorporation heard, they are willing to accept the situation and are going on with the incorpration of the territory not taken in by the Atherton proponents. Should the election at Atherton for the incorporation of that district be successful on Sept. 1, and all hope it will, it then becomes imperative for Menlo Park to incorporate to maintain its identity and retain the benefits of the several districts. The government of the fire lighting and sanitary districts would autoomatically come under the control of Atherton trustees. Should the Atherton election fail it is hardly likely, the Menlo incorporation would extend to Atherton. Incorporation appears to be in the air, but the voters will settle the question, and it is up to them to determine the vexatious question.

Mrs. Frederick W. Sharon was hostess at a luncheon party on Sunday at her home at Menlo Park, where she has been entertaining on several occasions recently. Among her guests were Mr. and Msr. George W. Kelham, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Politzer, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. McNear and Dr. Harry Tevis.

Mrs. Harry Doughty and Miss Sue Gale have returned to Menlo Park ro Lake Tahoe, where they passed a two weeks' vacation.

Joseph Weeden, who graduated with honors from the Redwood City high school last June, has entered the Affiliated Colleges at San Francisco to take a full course in dentistry. Mr. Weeden will soon be able to take the stump and become a politician.

Next Monday the grammar school will open for the fall term with the same teachers as last semester with the exception of Miss Kuck, who has been granted a year's leave of absence. Miss O'Connell of Redwood City will take her place. She is a graduate of the Teachers' college at San Jose.

Charles Brady of San Francisco is a guest of William Weeden. Young Brady is a former resident of Menlo Park.

Joseph Kelly, who was operated upon for appendicitis ten days ago at San Jose, will return to his home here today. Mr. Kelly is convalescent and will soon be himself again.

Miss Hanah Burke has sold her pretty home here and will shortly take up her permanent residence at San Rafael. Miss Burke for many years taught in the local grammar school. She is an old resident of Menlo Park.

On september fifth the college department of St. Patrick's Seminary will open for the fall semester with an increased attendance.

Some nights ago the young boys of Menlo Oaks played pranks by changing signs containing the names of the streets. The Ringwood road sign was placed on Fifteenth avenue, and the latter on Ringwood road. Most people are willing to brook this boyish frolic, but it must not be carried too far. There is a limit to all things, even patience.

Ralph Collins and family, who have lived in Menlo Park for some years, will move to Mayfield next week for a short time before occupying a new house being built for them on the Stanford campus. Mr. Collins is the chief mechanic at the university.

Miss Dorothy Bower daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bower, who graduated last June from Castelaja, received word this week that she has been admitted to Stanford.

It is reliably learned that work on the Dumbarton bridge will be started in September and completed in a year The completion of this bridge is sure to be a great benefit to this community, as it will divert much travel from the San Joaquin valley this way. It certainly ought to boom the peninsula. It will open a large locality, heretofore practically unknown to the traveling public. The chickens of Runnymede will take on a prouder strut, for no place will receive more benefit than that prosperous locality. It is the gate-way to the bridge. Menlo Park may look forward to an era of prosperity, and a boom in population.

Every Sunday hundreds park their machines at the Spring Valley lake at Portola. For a small fee all are permitted to enter the grounds around the lake and to enjoy swimming and boating. It is an ideal place for an outing. It is in charge of a Stanford swimming instructor. There is a cafeteria on the grounds. It is only of late that permission was granted by the Stanfodr University to anyone to enter the grounds. The opening of the attractive place gives another playground for the people.

Physicians were called to the bedside of Mrs. Delia Fleishhacker in her home at Atherton this week when she suffered a serious relapse. Small hope is held for her recovery. Mrs. Fleishhacker, who is the mother of Herbert and Mortimer Fleishhacker, San Francisco capitalists, has been ill fer several weeks. Her sons are at her bedside.

Senator Samuel M. Shortridge will leave next week for Eureka, to attend the legion convention. Mr. Shortridge is scheduled to make the principal speech of the convention. No man in the state is held in higher esteem by the boys of the world war than the senator who has fought their battles in the senate.

The new grocerteria will open today in the O'Keefe block with a full and complete stock of choice groceries that will be sold at bod rock prices. Watch for bargains.

The "KICK" in a Kilowatt
THE unit of measurement for electricity is the Kilowatt Hour. Each Kilowatt Hour costs only a few cents.
And yet but one Kilowatt Hour represents the amount of energy required to raise a 200-pound man 13,277 feet — nearly three and one-half times as high as Mt. Diablo!
Think what the work of one Kilowatt Hour would cost if you hired men to do it. Then consider the wonderful convenience and service of electricity and the trifling cost for its use.

AN OLD TIMER REVIVED

An English miner, who had been to church, was descanting upon an anthem, which had given him great pleasure.

A listening shipmate asked: "I say, Bill, what's a hanthem?"

"What's," exclaimed Bill. "Do you mean to say you don't know what a anthem is?"

"Not me."

"Well, then, I'll tell you. If I was to say to you, 'Ere, Bill, give me that 'and-spike,' that wouldn't be a anthem. But if I was to say 'Bill, Bill, Bill, give, give, me that 'and, give me that 'and 'and-spike, spike, spike, 'and-spike, 'and, 'and-spike, 'and-spike, spike, spike, spike, Bill, give e that 'andspike,' why that would e a hanthem."
